

Going Solar

■ THE Agni Solar Systems recently launched its mini solar water heater on the occasion of world environment day. The heater will be available in three different sizes - 50, 75 and 100 litres - with a price tag ranging from Rs 9,000 to 13,000. The new model has an electrical back-up facility to heat the water in the rainy season and the storage tank is well insulated so that the stored water does not lose heat energy.
